SIMS PAYS VISIT HERE NEXT MONTH

Degree to be Conferred on Him by McGill

POPULAR HERE

Will Address Students Nov.
11th at Special Armistice
Convention

Admiral Sims, the American naval officer, best liked by the British Navy, will be the guest of McGill University on November 10th and 11th, and will not only address the student body but will also receive an honorary degree at a special convocation to be held in the R.V.C. Hall.

Arriving in Montreal on the morning of November 10th, in the special car of C. S. Sims, vice-president of the Delaware and Hudson Railway, the well-known American officer, accompanied by Mrs. Sims, will be met at Windsor Station by Sir Arthur and Lady Currie, with whom they will reside during their two days in this city.

The programme arranged will provide Montrealers with an opportunity of hearing the man who has been so pro-British in his opinions for many years, and who on more than one occasion has been reprimanded for making public statements which have exceeded limits of strict neutrality in national relationships.

At one o'clock on the day of his arrival he will be the guest of honor at a luncheon to be held in the Windsor Hotel, while at six o'clock of the same day he will be tendered a dinner by the members of the United Officers' Association of Montreal in the Ritz-Carlton Hotel. Those in charge of the Armistice Ball to be held in the Windsor Hotel have been assured that both the Admiral and his wife will be among the list of patrons.

On the afternoon of the next day he will give a special address to McGill students at the Convocation, when he will receive the degree of Doctor of Laws. On this day he will also address the members of the Women's Canadian Club, spending the remainder of his time privately, as far as is known at present.

His brief stay in Canada's metropolis will be ended on the night of the 11th, when he will travel by rail to his birth place, Port Hope, Ontario.

It is the wish of the Principal that all McGill students will set the afternoon of November 11th apart in order that Admiral Sims may receive a special welcome from McGill on the occasion of his address to the McGill undergraduates.

To British subjects, Admiral Sims is probably the best known and most popular of all American sailors, not only on account of his pro-British attitude but because of his direct and pointed manner in dealing with naval affairs.

On the occasion of his famous London speech, while on the world tour of the American Navy, in 1908-09, no small amount of press criticism followed his statement that "Blood is thicker than water." In fact, so intricate did American diplomatic relations become with European countries that more than one note was exchanged by the United States and Germany, who considered that it was the semi-official announcement of a new alliance of the United States with Great Britain.

Very much of the same impression was started about a year ago, while the famous officer was in London, to check which Washington officials strongly demanded that he be reprimanded for personally expressing American sympathies while on a national mission.

During the late war Admiral Sims commanded the American Naval Forces in European waters.

USE OF THE LIBRARY.

At its last meeting the Library Committee approved the following regulations regarding the use of the Stack:

1.—Honour students may enter the Stack for ten or fifteen minutes at a time, no application to the attendant in charge at the Desk, for the purpose of consulting the shelves. They must sign the register on entering and leaving the Stack. Books should not be returned to the shelves but should be left on the nearest table. Students desiring to make further use of the books in the Reading Room or to take them home should charge them at the Desk in the usual way.

2. Graduate students. A special room has been provided with table space for graduate students which will be assigned on application to the Librarian. Graduate students will

ROOTERS PRACTICE IN UNION TONIGHT

Tickets to be Sold After Practice

With only two more days before the Varsity game the cheer leaders are working at fever heat to have the liveliest and noisiest crowd of rooters ever seen at a game at McGill in the bleachers on Saturday. Accordingly another huge rooting practice is to be held tonight in the ballroom on the third storey of the Union. The time has been set for 5.15 in order that the greatest number possible may attend.

This will be the last opportunity the crowd of rooters will have for expending their vocal energy at a senior rugby match this year, and both leaders and rooters have determined to even outdo last Saturday's very creditable performance. Much time will be spent tonight in giving extra punch to each yell. The cheer leaders have learned new antics and the performance of the rooters at Saturday's game promises to be the best in history.

A feature that is going to be a pleasant surprise to the spectators will be the burlesque rugby game in the interval at half-time. This promises to go over with a bang but there are still a few men needed to fill out the line-ups. Give your name to the cheer leaders as soon as you arrive.

This Saturday whether the team wins or loses a huge parade of all the rooters will take place after the game. This will provide an outlet for the extra enthusiasm worked up while the game is on. If the team wins it will certainly be a wild and exultant procession, if not it will at least show how well McGill can lose.

The rooters' band, that most important asset to the cheering organization, will meet for final practice at 5 o'clock. The band gave a very praiseworthy performance at the Queen's game and this Saturday promises to even reach with full volume the high notes of the National Anthem.

Every student who intends to sit in the rooting section on Saturday must be present at the practice in the Union, as after the practice is over rooters' tickets will be sold. Those who are going can get them from the cheer leaders at the close of the practice.

DAILY NEWS BOARD

There will be a meeting of the News Board in the office at 5 p.m. sharp. Very important business is to be discussed briefly, and the entire board is urged to be present.

enter and leave the Stack by the door behind the Delivery Desk and will sign the Stack register. They may take from the Stack to their tables such books as are immediately needed for the day's work. To reserve books on their tables for a longer period they should apply at the Desk.

DISCUSSION OF FINANCES BY STUDENTS

Careful Guidance of Various Activities Assured

PROSPECTS GOOD

More Open Meetings of Students' Society in Future

The students as a whole had the opportunity of learning the outcome of the efforts expended on their behalf by their representatives on the Students' Council last year at the opening meeting of the Students' Society in the Union last evening. President R. L. Hamilton, in his opening remarks, expressed regret that the gathering scarcely reached the one hundred mark out of a possible two thousand, although the event was brought before the attention of the students for more than a week before it took place.

The minutes of the final meeting last March were read by Secretary Frazer. As there was no discussion over the items therein they were adopted as correct.

Hamilton cleared up any misunderstanding that might have occurred over the granting of an intercollegiate basketball trophy to the co-eds. It will be remembered by some that this question was brought up before Council last year. Knowing that the McGill girls played with those of Toronto and Queen's for the intercollegiate basketball championship it was thought only fair that some trophy be granted to reward them for their efforts. Hence the co-eds gained authority to decide during the summer on an appropriate trophy, but at the same time were to keep in touch with the Council that they might report their decision. They ordered a cup similar to the one for track events without reporting to the Council, and the result is that their trophy is not now considered appropriate and the order has been cancelled. But the co-eds are assured that they will in the near future have some trophy well worth while striving for.

A second matter brought up was with regard to the uniforms and equipment of football players. Last year a great deal of difficulty was experienced in getting the players to turn in their equipment at the end of the season, and in the end much was missing. These uniforms have to be replaced by new ones, entailing an unnecessary expenditure by the Students Council. It is most important that during this college year the students' athletics be carried out as economically as possible and so a special appeal was made to all managers of football squads and to others connected therewith to see that all football equipment is turned in at the end of the season.

Secretary Frazer read the auditor's report on the financial statement of the Students' Society in the "Daily" last week.

Some misgiving was evident over certain items in the financial statement. There is a very large deficit with regard to the Union. President Hamilton pointed out that in order to prevent the same thing happening again this year a record of the revenue and expenditure will be kept for each week and if it is found that the Union is not paying other means will be found to make it pay. A deficit was also incurred by the publication of the Song Book. A great many copies remain unsold and if these can be dispensed with the deficit may be overcome. Hence a campaign is under way by which it is hoped the remaining copies may be sold. Freshmen, especially, who may not have learned as yet that there is fine song books for sale at a moderate price, are urged to obtain one.

A lengthy discussion arose over a proposed budget. Some seemed to think that a budget should be prepared at the beginning of the year; that if such were done the students would take greater interest in the financial aspect of college activities; that it would act as a curb on our expenditure. The president pointed out that it was very difficult to prepare a budget for the reason that the amount of revenue forthcoming is uncertain. A great percentage of the income is derived from rugby games; the attendance at these depend on weather conditions and other circumstances. Then again the income from the "Daily" cannot, at present, even be approximated. Some difficulty was experienced last year with the advertisers, so that it is uncertain how much business the "Daily" will do in the line of advertising. Usually as Christmas draws near the amount of advertising procured is greater. As

THE UNION HOUSE COMMITTEE

The Union has called for the nomination of men for the Union House Committee. The university is waiting to see the manner in which the Faculties have responded to the privilege thus conferred upon them. It behooves each student to make certain that two men or more are nominated from his Faculty, and that these nominations are in the hands of the Union officials at the first opportunity, and certainly not later than Tuesday, October the twenty-fourth.

In the Union House Committee is vested the control of the business of the Union. All important college functions are held in the Union and consequently come under the jurisdiction of the House Committee—Chief among these may be mentioned the Junior, Union and Alma Mater dances. In addition to this, it should be remembered that the House Committee is very frequently a stepping stone to bigger things: the secretary, vice-president and president of the Union are usually men who have served in a subordinate capacity on the House Committee—and more than one President of the Student's Society has commenced his career in a similar position.

HONOR SINE ONERE

In the course of the discussion during the Student's Society meeting, mention was made of the fact that undergraduates were prone to neglect, or to overlook, the responsibilities which they might have incurred by the acceptance of an office in the affairs about college. That this is only too true has been born out by the evidence of mismanagement of different organizations around the Campus. Many of the clubs which are now in a comatose condition, might be active societies if the enthusiasm of their members had not been dulled by inefficiency and indifference on the part of those who might be expected to supply the necessary initiative to carry the activities to a successful conclusion.

Everywhere in college we find men seeking honour without responsibility; everywhere we find the man who is willing, or anxious, to be the holder of an executive position for the sake of seeing his name in print, or because of some fancied distinction that he may imagine will accrue to his reputation from the mere possession of the office; everywhere we find the man who is the prime mover in the inauguration of a new branch of endeavour, and who, as soon as the talking and election of officers is concluded, disappears into the region of forgotten things, not infrequently taking the recently formed club or society into obscurity with him. The university has no need for such a man. He discourages progress, impedes activity and is a stumbling block in the way of undergraduate effort.

At this time of the year, when so many executives are in the process of formation, and when so many students are being thrust into positions of the scope of which they have no real conception, a reminder is particularly apt with reference to over zeal in the incurring of responsibilities for which the prospective office-holder may have little inclination. Any man who is convinced that he will not do as well in office as another, is working an injustice to his future and to that of the office if he permits his nomination to stand. One that will not exercise judgment and discretion in such a decision is not likely to do so in the matters which he would be called upon to determine after election to the post to which he aspires.

RESULTS OF MCGILL TESTS IN MEDICINE

The following candidates were successful at the recent examinations at McGill as reported last night by the registrar, Dr. R. W. Powell, of the Medical Council of Canada.

This registration is under the provisions of the Canada Medical Act, which grants a qualification of L. M. C. C. accepted for registration and license in every province of Canada.

The successful candidates are:

STRANGE COMPETITION OFFERED ON OLD SHIP

Captain D. H. Smith, of the famous convict ship, "Success," now on exhibition at Warren Bridge, Boston, has put up $250 in one of the strangest competitions ever offered college men. Captain Smith offers $125 to the Harvard man, and the same amount to the Technology man who will undergo a week's imprisonment in solitary confinement aboard the ancient craft. Should either the Harvard or the Technology man quit before the week is out, the survivor will receive $250, if he sticks out the week.

The "Success," the oldest ship afloat, is the sole remaining relic of the old British felon fleet. Aboard her are reserved in their original state the cells, dungeons, and torture implements used a century ago. Solitary confinement, it should be explained, entails occupying a narrow lightless cell 23 hours a day, in chains, dragging a heavy ball and chain across the deck for the remaining hour, and subsisting only on rations of bread and water, issued twice a day.

An Emerson College girl, Miss Sallie Coulter, 21 years old, recently created a sensation by remaining 25 hours in one of the "black holes," chained to a ring-bolt in a painful position. Applicants for this strange endurance test should apply in person to Captain D. H. Smith, on board the "Success" at Warren Bridge, Thursday, October 12, at 9 o'clock in the morning. The test will begin at 10 o'clock Monday morning, October 16, and will last till the same hour October 23.

Only men of good constitution need apply. Selected applicants will be given a physical examination before and after the test.

G. F. Strong, Vancouver, B.C.; N. T. Williamson, Westmount, Que.

ARTS FRESH-SOPH. BANQUET TONIGHT

Affair at Queen's Hotel is Assured Success

Tonight is the big night for the Freshmen of the Faculty of Arts, for tonight the Annual Fresh-Soph. Banquet takes place. This banquet is an event of inestimable importance in the freshman's calendar, as this is the first opportunity presented him of meeting the sophomores on an equal footing.

Three points make this year's affair an assured success. An excellent menu has been provided, so that men who have a failing in this direction will be well looked after. For those who are musically inclined, an orchestra of professional musicians has been secured for the evening. Last but not least, and of special interest to everyone is the fact that Sir Arthur Currie has accepted the invitation to be present and to address the students on this occasion.

As has been mentioned above, the value of an affair such as this can not be underestimated. It is at the annual Fresh-Soph. banquet that a man coming to the friends, for though he may be shy or backward at other more formal meetings, there is absolutely no reason for him to be so at an informal meeting of his own class. Past banquets proved this true many times over.

Only one thing has marred these banquets in previous years, and that is a tendency on the part of the men, both freshmen and sophomores, to love their self control and to act in such a way as to make themselves very objectionable. It should be born in mind that Sir Arthur only consented to attend on receiving Pres. Teakle's promise that there would be no disturbance this year. It remains with the members of '26 and '25 and with no one else to see that Teakle's promise is kept to the letter and that the evening be really successful.

for the Union cafeteria, it is thought that the income will exceed the expenditure by a good margin; this will be proved after it has run for a few months. The necessity of a budget was pressed, however, even if the approximations therein proved to be much higher or lower than the final, correct figures, and the matter will be dealt with by the Council in the near future.

Whatever be the merits of such a budget in interesting the students in the financial affairs another means of accomplishing this has been planned. That is to hold more open meetings of the Students' Council that the representatives thereon may be subject to suggestions, and that their actions may be checked up if felt necessary by any student.

Some discussion arose over the duties of the Union House committee. Quackenbush contended that these duties in most cases were merely nominal, that the only thing done by the committee at present was to arrange for the few dances held. He thought that the committee might be much smaller if this was to be the extent to which their energies should be taxed. Rochester, president of the Union, maintained that the duties of the committee were clearly defined in the constitution, and it didn't appear to him that it could be changed for the better. Hamilton dismissed the discussion by recommending that the Union House Committee meet, discuss the question, and bring it up before the next meeting of the Society.

When a question was asked about the cloak room in the Union, Rochester assured the assemblage that an adequate cloak room will be prepared in the basement of the Union instead of on the ground floor, where the offices are situated now.

It was moved and seconded that a recommendation be brought before the Council to the effect that in future the freshmen be forced to wear some form of headgear that will distinguish them from the upper year men.

Before adjournment President Hamilton brought to attention the visit of Admiral Sims to McGill on November 11th, when he will be granted a degree by the University. Hamilton urged that the students give him a hearty welcome.

depends on each man knowing just what is to be pulled off.

ROOTERS BAND PRACTICE

There will be a practice for the members of the rooters band in the music room of the Union this afternoon at 5 o'clock. As this is the final practice a full turnout is requested.

ARTS '26 ATTENTION!

Members of Arts '26 who have not already done so, will please obtain their tickets for the Annual Fresh-Soph Banquet to be held at Queen's Hotel, Thursday, October 19th, at 7.30 p.m. by paying their five dollars, either to Gorrie or Godine or Douchless at once. It is imperative that all money be in by this afternoon.

WATER POLO

Polo practice will be held at the Central Y, at 5.15. All men who have played polo or done any swimming are asked to turnout.

October 19, 1914—Aggies go down to defeat before McGill Juniors in Q. R. F. U. game to tune of 32 to 0. McGill superior to Macdonald in all departments of play. McGill juniors are favorites for first place in their section of Q.R.F.U.

October 19, 1915—The Philosophical Society holds its first meeting in Strathcona Hall. Mr. A. Gardner reads instructive paper on "Some Ethical Phases of the Labor Question."

October 19, 1915—Princess Patricia of Connaught honors the Fourth Universities Company by an informal visit while the men are drilling on Campus. Is greatly interested in these reinforcements to P.P.C.L.I. and expresses herself as well pleased with the Company.

B.H.S. GIRLS TO BE GUESTS OF R.V.C. '23

The girls of '23 who are taking the B. H. S. Course at Macdonald College are to be guests at a tea given in their honour by the members of R.V.C. '23. This was the decision reached at a class meeting of the R.V.C. Seniors held yesterday. Although members of the same class, the students of R.C.V. feel that they do not know the girls studying at Macdonald and it is thought that a tea would be a pleasant way of being introduced. The guests of honour at the entertainment will be, Miss Reynier, Miss Hodge, Miss Van Wart and Miss Saunders, who are all taking the B. H. S. Course. The date of the tea will be arranged to suit these girls but it will likely take place in about a fortnight. It is hoped that all the Montreal girls will take this opportunity of meeting their classmates.

The resignation of Miss Mary Fry as Sport's Manager was regretfully accepted and Miss M. Pick was elected in her place. Miss Dorothy Leed resigned as cheer leader and that vacancy was filled by the appointment of Miss Lorna Kerr. Miss Laurette Campbell is the 4th Year representative to the French Society.

OTHER COLLEGES

The University of Oklahoma has increased the number of its correspondence course to 700. More than 65 per cent. of the students who graduated from the university had done part of their work by correspondence. Oklahoma hopes to equal the record of the University of Wisconsin in serving 30,000 students through correspondence study during the past year.

Purdue University, is to have its first "Dad's" day this year following the example of the universities of Ohio and Illinois. This is a day set apart with an informal programme to get the fathers to see just what their sons and daughters are doing at University.

Princeton University is to have William T. Tilden II, tennis champion of the United States give a series of exhibition matches with Zenzo Shimizu this week.

The Smith College Weekly states that the college receives four thousand incoming letters a day—an average of two per girl. We would like to compare this average with that of a university for men alone.

Brown University compiled scholastic averages for the past university year showing that the members of the nineteen fraternities have a higher average for studies than the non-fraternity men.

The University of Alberta recently conferred the degree of L.L.D. on Lord Byng, Governor General of Canada.

President Chase of the University of California deplors the fact that this year hazing has appeared on the campus in a slight degree.

Michigan University undergraduates were able to stay at home Saturday and yet watch their team play by play in its game with Vanderbilt at Nashville, Tennessee.

An electric board, the gift of Alumni shows the game in detail, the yards make on any play and who made them. The data is received by telegraph and indicated by the operation of coloured lights.

QUIET HAVEN.

Here long ago old clipper ships came swaying,

Bowing with the swell's sweep, reaching quiet haven
 In the still, deep, sheltered roadway where the great waves' playing Murmured hauntingly and broken on the old stone jetty sea-engraved.

Gently sea-scarred sail-ships entered with the twilight
 That filled the cove with beauty, and anchored in the bay.

Bearing silks and aloe out of China, rosewood, and delight
 Of Java spice they came to quiet haven at the close of day.

Those old dear ships brought tea from hillside gardens of Ceylon,
 Ebony and ivory and strange fabrics from the East;

With loveliness for cargo those square-rigged ships drove on—
 Beautiful in every curve and line, and in their strength not least.

But that was all so long ago: no clipper

STUDENTS VS. STAFF GOLF MATCH DRAWN

Many Distinguished Names Among Contestants

NINETY PLAYERS

Train for Dixie Leaves Grand Trunk Station at 8.15 A.M.

On Friday morning, on the courses of the Royal Montreal Golf Club, will be staged what promises to be the most keenly contested of all the annual golf matches ever held between the Professors and Students.

All players who do not intend to motor to the course, will find the Grand Trunk almost as convenient, as the Dixie Station is only a hundred yards from the clubhouse door. Play will commence promptly at nine o'clock so that everyone will be able to finish comfortably before lunch. The Professors have very kindly invited their opponents to lunch at the clubhouse at the conclusion of the match, a courtesy which will be greatly appreciated.

The match will be played as usual on the Nassau System which gives one point each for the first and second nine holes and one point for the match. This system enables players who are a trifle out of practice to pull up on the last nine holes.

Since the last match the Dixie course has been remodelled and changed into two 18 hole courses. These are plentifully supplied with bunkers and water hazards which usually have a peculiar attraction for the ball of the unwary player. It is therefore advised that all students should equip themselves with a heavy niblick, or some such club.

Owing to the uncertainty of the relative merits of the various handicaps it was difficult to place the teams in any proper order, but everyone is sure to have an interesting match.

The first few matches, especially that between Mr. A. P. S. Glasco and Grant Annable should produce some brilliant golf, and the results will be extremely close.

It is hoped that everyone will turn up to play unless the weather is so wet as to make it absolutely impossible. Players are requested to note that there is only one train to Dixie. This leaves the Grand Trunk Bonaventure Station at 8.15 a.m. There is a train returning at 1.58 p.m. which arrives at Montreal at 2.15 p.m.

Any player who finds that he is unable to play should please communicate with A. D. McCall, Uptown 149 as early as possible in order that a substitute may be provided.

The following is the draw:—

SENIOR MEN SWAMPED THE SECOND TEAM

Walsh and Woodruff Tear Huge Holes in "Scrub" Line

SNAPPY DRILL

Intermediates Prepare for Contest in Kingston With Winner of Queen's-R.M.C. Game

The senior football team experienced very little trouble in running through the second squad in yesterday's workout at the Stadium. They ploughed through the line almost at will and scored several touchdowns in quick succession. It was the coldest day so far this season and the players were obliged to hit up a lively pace in order to keep warm.

The intermediates fought hard to hold the first team but their line was no match for their heavy opponents. Woodruff and Walsh bore the brunt of the work on the attack. Time after time this husky pair ripped their way through the line for big gains. Walsh scored the first touchdown on a line plunge as the result of which he broke loose for a 50-yard run, and Woodruff a few minutes later emulated his fellow-American, by himself bucking through on successive attempts from the 30-yard line to the goal posts. It was the prettiest line plunging displayed by McGill men this season and Coach Shaughnessy voiced his approval of the performance.

Flanagan was present at the workout, limping around on a pair of crutches. McGregor got into a uniform but took no part in the heavy work, Shaughnessy desiring to take no chances with Doug's bad shoulder. Assistant Coach Jack Lewis has started his intermediates on intensive training for their intercollegiate schedule, which begins next Wednesday, the 25th, when the squad travels to Kingston to engage the winner of the Queen's-R.M.C. contest, in a home and home series. The winner of this series meets the University of Toronto team in the Queen City for the championship.

Lewis's blue-jerseyed squad should be able to present a strong line-up against their rivals next week, a number of the present intermediates having gained some experience under Coach Shaughnessy on the senior squad.

TENNIS FINALS TODAY AT R.V.C.

Seniors and Freshmen in Keen Competition

The final round of the R.V.C. Inter-Year Tennis Tournament will be played off this afternoon at 2 o'clock on Courts 1 and 2. The Seniors and Freshmen will compete for first and second place while third place will be determined by a play-off between the Sophomores and Juniors. To determine Inter-year Championship, Zeroda Slack will play Frances Stocking, and Marjorie Leggett, Roba Dunton, in singles; while in doubles Frances Perry and Alice Roy will play against Frances Secord and Adery Carter. To determine third place Carol Robertson will play Elsie Dunton and Jean Matheson, Alice Silver in singles; in doubles, E. Hertzberg and M. Cameron will play K. Perrin and D. Hutcheson.

Each set will be keenly contested and keenly watched as the result will add points toward the Banner for which all years are competing.

Miss Slack in all probability will play her usual sure and steady game, while Miss Stocking's play is characterized by a back hand stroke that never fails. Miss Leggett and Miss Dunton are well matched, each being good in her back line drives and serving. Miss Perry and Miss Roy make a fine team against Miss Secord and Miss Carter, the former being noted for their steady net games while the latter play a long driving game.

Between Sophomores and Juniors the competition is just as close, Miss Robertson and Miss Dunton being both sure, steady and strong. Miss Mathewson and Miss Silver also, will play fine games, both being brilliant in their fore-hand driving and smashing. The doubles between E. Hertzberg and M. Cameron vs. K. Perrin and D. Hutcheson will be of interest to everyone as all who have seen the long driving games these four play have always come back for more.

This afternoon's turnout of supporters will be indeed large, since the result plays such an important part in determining which is to be the banner year.

TRACK TEAM NOT ENTER FOR QUEENS

Two Men Only to Come From Kingston

FAST WORKOUTS

Toronto Only Opposition Offered to Red and White Team

The most recent development in connection with the coming track meet is the entry of only two men from Queen's. This will limit the possible winning of the meet to Toronto or McGill, and the affair will be a dual meet (as far as scoring goes), in as much as eight men are the minimum team for a college to enter in the meet for points.

The possibilities of a Red and White victory are aided by the withdrawal of the tri-colored outfit. It was feared for a time that they might have boomed the track sports along with rugby but it is evident that this major sport championship is to be left this year for the McGill and Toronto teams to batter over.

The work at the track today was light. With a cold wind sweeping across the field it was difficult for any sort of a workout. The fast 440 man, Dave Johnson, went around his distance at a good clip but the time was slow owing to the heavy wind. The track is in splendid shape. It will be fast on Friday and if favored with a bit of good weather the team should touch the records. Gaboury was wielding his pole again. He seems to be in first class condition, and was steady in spite of the high wind. Craik was on the track for a short period. Stephen, the three-mile star, was out and showed some fast work. He is a steady runner and should finish well to the front. Legg did the odd round of the cinder path. He is stepping out well and with good luck will come close to the record that stands now for the half mile.

The Toronto team that is to come down is a powerful one. They have a fast sprinter in Vince. His times are good and he is consistent so that the men who run against him will have to watch their step. Bell is another point winner on the Toronto list. Whether he can score enough points to bring his colors through to victory is an unanswered question. McGill seems to be weak in the weights. Kennedy being the only performer of real merit. The hammer throw will be one of the closest events of the day. Foss may get into better shape and score a win but this is not certain. Without a doubt the points will be close. Francois, the Hamilton pole vaulter, is by no means a sure win, but he should be able to collect some points. On Sports Day there were but two entries in the hurdles. Kennedy is already entered in many events and may be busy when this is run off. The Toronto delegation has a strong pair of entries in this and they may score. The other events are well divided. McGill has a team composed of stars with weak spots. In picking up seconds and thirds with enough wins to give them the points the Blue and White team may capture the championship, which McGill has held for the past four years. Toronto has a steady well balanced delegation, whose true worth balanced competition is not known, so that the outcome of the meet may be closer than the entry list would make it seem.

RUGGER TEAM SHOWS LITTLE IMPROVEMENT

There was a fair turnout at the English Rugby practice on the old Campus yesterday afternoon, the squad being supplemented by several players of the Montreal English Club, who showed up very well.

The general showing made was to say the least disappointing, however, and the team has a very long way to go before it becomes a really dangerous outfit, capable of standing up against Ottawa or Montreal. The work of the halves and three-quarters yesterday was very poor indeed, and the tackling of the whole squad was wretched. Twice a man ran thirty yards through a field literally packed with players without a man getting him.

The forwards were working quite well together, being especially good at forming a pack after the ball was played on the ground, and they showed quite well in the scrum. A very noticeable fault, however, was the wild banging of the ball back to the halves from a line-out, without any apparent idea of where the ball was going. This is a very dangerous fault, and may easily result in disaster if the opposing team is quick on the ball.

The three-quarters and halves got away fast, but their passing was decidedly inaccurate, and for the most part ineffective, although one or two fine passing runs were made; their tackling was poor also. The halves need to be a lot quicker on the ball or on their man if the other side obtains possession.

The miserable weather, no doubt, made a difference to the players, and there is no reason for pessimism regarding the chances, only daily and severe practices are essential if the team is to be in shape by a week from Saturday.

MEDICINE PUTTING OUT STRONG TEAM

Enthusiastic Turnout Yesterday Afternoon

Medicine turned out in good numbers yesterday for the first of their few practices before their first game next Monday. Boyle, Matthews, Sherman, Parlow, Chism and Sloan, mainstays of last year's team, were out, with a few new men, who are rapidly gaining experience in the intricacies of medicine signals. Sloan, White, Fullerton, Zink and Abby present a heavy line-up. The Medicine team is sure to give Science a good run for the championship. Medicine men are requested to turn out this afternoon. There are only a few practices left before the first game next Monday.

SCIENCE PRACTISE.

Science turned out on the Campus yesterday afternoon for their last practice prior to their initial game today with Commerce. Under the able coaching of Captain Lloyd Almond, they went through a snappy signal drill. Most of last year's championship team turned out. There are only a few new players, who are very promising material for this year's team. Taken all together Science has a well balanced team, capable of retaining the inter-faculty championship. Whittall, Addie, Moore and Mace, last year's mainstays, were out in force. Science has a heavy line, which ought to help pull off their trick plays in fine style.

SCIENCE AND COMMERCE TO CLASH TODAY

Second of Inter-Faculty Rugby Series to be Played

TO-DAY ON CAMPUS

Commerce Strengthened by Cassels and Cummings —Out to Win

The second of the inter-faculty games will take place this afternoon on the Campus at 4 o'clock. Not at all daunted by the loss of their first game, Commerce is out to win. But Davis, who played at flying wing, is being sent back to the half line, replacing Glickman. Kenrick, who did good work at left half in the first game, is holding down his position. Milne, playing quarter, suffered minor injuries to his knee, but is expected to be out again for today's game. McRae, who kicked for the Commerce aggregation, will probably do the kicking again today. He did a lot of practice kicking at yesterday's workout, and ought to show better today what he can do. Hamilton and Bright, outside wings, promise to keep up their good reputation. Cassels and Cummings, from M.A.A.A., will be out today and with this addition, Commerce is sure to give the Plumbers a hard game. Judging from yesterday's Science practice, they have a heavy line-up that will force Commerce to their utmost. Most of last year's regulars will be out in force. Whittall, Addie, Moore and Almond, last year's stars, are out to make this year's team champions. There are especially a few plays worthy of commendation, which, if they succeed, will be able to smash all Commerce opposition. The weather, which has been neither warm nor cold, has suddenly become brisk, which ought to add to the pep of the players. It can be assumed that this afternoon's game with Science defending last year's laurels and Commerce fighting to avenge the loss of their first game, will be a battle royal.

FIRST WORKOUT OF B.W.F. TODAY AT 5.15

The season of the Boxing, Wrestling and Fencing Club opens tonight. Although the wrestling division has been going for a little while the fistic end of the club's activity has not started. The initial turnout will be at Molson Hall today at five fifteen. Owing to the fact that the gymnasium is in constant use from one hour to the next, it is essential that men be on time. Instructor Robinson will be in charge and Mr. Smith in all probability will be among those present. He will not be on hand at every practice till the end of the rugby season, but any new-comers to the game can learn a lot from last year's team. For men of the first two years it will be of interest to know that not only are they being instructed in the noble art of self defence by attending the meetings of the club but also they are getting the much desired attendance in gymnasium. The wrestlers are to meet as usual on Monday and Thursday. The fencers should report to Ackman of the Faculty of Arts.

The men who are out for the team should start at the first of the year. The opening of the practice is a bit earlier than in the past, which gives new men a chance to develop to a greater degree before the Assault-at-Arms.

RECEPTION SATURDAY AT HIGH SCHOOL GYM.

Of particular interest to the graduates of the High School of Montreal at present at the University, is the announcement that the Graduating Exercises of the Sixth Forms of 1921-22 are to take place at the school on Saturday night, October twenty-first at half-past eight sharp.

To the preliminary part of the programme, which will be carried out in the Assembly Hall, and which will consist of the chairman's remarks and the distribution of certificates, medals and prizes, all are cordially invited.

The later reception in the gymnasium is open only to those who have special invitations. There are still a few of these invitations available for graduates of the High, and these may be obtained on application to Mr. Gammell, or through T. H. Harris, Arts '26, Secretary of the Graduating Exercises Committee.

Absinthe makes the heart grow fonder, but the wages of gin is debt.

OKLAHOMA DAILY

This is a fine country but Norway has a law making girls learn to cook before they marry.

Our money will be printed on a better grade of paper soon but it won't last us any longer.

A girl of 21 recently married a bachelor of 86 but any girl could have done that.

Mirrors take the conceit out of sensible people and put the conceit into foolish people.

"Publishing a book of poems is just like dropping a rose leaf down the Grand Canyon and waiting to hear the echo."

Many a dull man acts smart.
When people marry for money that is all they get.

The man worth while is the man who can smile before breakfast.

There is money for someone in putting coal up like cough drops to be sold in drug stores.

They say that the School of Experience is now offering splendid night courses.

BASEBALL PRACTICE FOR SCIENCE TEAM

The first practice of the snappy Science "twenty-five" indoor baseball team was held yesterday. Though only a few men were out there were among them several who show some ability at the game. Burland is a good man in the pitcher's box and with a little practice may develop into a star. The heavy hitters in the outfit had much difficulty
locating his fast ones except Norton, whose experience at the outdoor game stood by him. The last named is a heavy hitting player and a fast man on the bases. Paterson, another likely player, is a veteran at the game and is already in good shape. Kyle, the second baseman, is dependable. His batting average at the conclusion of the series, which is to be played, should be well toward the top. Although the rest of the team is new to the game
there is hope that with some practice and training it will be whipped into shape.

The league is to open next week,
when this team meets Arts "twenty-five".
Although their opponents' ability is unknown as yet there is only a slight doubt as to the outcome of the game.

HAPPINESS

By DIANTHOS

Had I a little house with open door,
Set in a garden's murmurous
retreat,

Where smiles would greet me when
the day was o'er,

And running feet:

Had I a little book wherein to read Histories ages old yet ever new;

So told that they supply my every need,

Tho' these are few:

Had I a trusted friend with whom to walk

Along life's widening-pathway to the end;

To share my lighter and more
thoughtful talk,

And counsel lend:

Then would I count myself as blessed beyond

All humankind; however small may seem

My simple wishes; and this earthly bond,

The fairest dream.

AT ERSKINE CHURCH

Rev. Henry Gordon Talks on Life in the Peninsula

Following the sale of Labrador homespun rugs and toys, and the serving of tea, a brief and interesting illustrated lecture on "Life in Labrador", was given yesterday afternoon by the Rev. Henry Gordon at Erskine Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Gordon pointed out that what is known as "The Labrador" is an immense tract of land, and that his acquaintance with Labrador was necessarily limited to one section, namely, that in the neighborhood of Cartwright. Cartwright, though its population is but seventy-five, is the most important settlement in the north of Labrador, and is commonly known as the capital of Labrador.

The Labrador Missionary is cut off
from the outer world for eight months, since the surrounding waters are all frozen, except during four months of the year, during which all communication with Canada and Newfoundland is made.

Rev. Gordon wished to correct a prevalent, though entirely erroneous, impression that exists as to Labrador's climate; namely, that it was unfit for habitation by white people. The winters, though undoubtedly extremely severe, are extremely bracing, whereas the summers are very moderate. The scenery flashed on the screen showed Labrador to be indeed a beautiful country. The scenery is as varied as it is beautiful, rough cliffs and bare promontories changing to grass covered and well wooded hills, calm bays fading into dark green fields, dotted with the houses of natives and missionaries.

Another misconception that exists concerning Labrador is that it is a poor country. This, too, is entirely incorrect. The people inhabiting the coast are, unfortunately, not very industrious, and it is through seeing these in their poverty that one is apt to stamp Labrador as a poor country. To travel to the interior, however, is to change one's opinion of the country. Summer sees practically every man sailing down to the sea on one of the numerous rivers for the purpose of fishing. In winter the men occupy themselves either with the trapping of animals for furs, or lumbering. There is no place as well known as Labrador for sixty-foot masts.

The population of Labrador may be divided into three sections. In the extreme north, are to be found a few real Eskimos. Further south are the whites, mostly Canadian and American missionaries, and half-breeds. The half-breeds are mostly English-Eskimo, being descendants of the men who came out with the Hudson Bay Company. There are a few also with French blood in their veins. In this connection it is interesting to note that during the Great War
no less than thirty-five members of the Newfoundland regiment were volunteers from Labrador. All these men showed extreme bravery, one of them gaining distinction.

It was originally the intention of the Labrador Missionaries to construct a central boarding school near Cartwright.
The epidemic of Spanish Influenza which ravaged the country, necessitated the changing of this plan. Though it is a fact little known to the outside world,
fully one-quarter of Labrador's population was wiped out by the awful disease. There was more than one instance, Mr. Gordon said, of whole communities being wiped out, and remaining unburied till found by the missionaries
sometimes as long as three months later.
As may well be imagined, many children lost either or both of their parents. The missionaries, therefore, decided to build an orphan home in the place of the boarding school originally intended.
The plan has materialized, and at "Point"
a few miles from Cartwright stands a large three-story structure, the product of the missionaries' efforts.

The good work done by this orphanage can best be indicated by the fact that on entrance, 75 per cent of the children showed signs of tuberculosis, whereas at present there are not 25 per cent showing these signs. Smiling and well filled-out faces, a further indication of the home's good work, formed the last pictures which were flashed on the screen.

A vote of thanks to the speaker and a short service brought a pleasant afternoon to an end.

most interesting. It is hoped at a later date to bring Prof. Wm. Mac-Dougall, the great psychologist from Harvard, here to give an address.

The meeting then closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

The officers of the society are:
Hon. President, Dr. W. D. Tait.

President, H. F. Hall.

Vice-President, Miss R. Contant,

B.A.

Secy-Treas, Mr. Woodhouse.

Executive, Miss Z. Slack, Mr. O.

Kleinberg, M.A., E. R. Alexander.

VILE FRESHIES ARE INITIATED

Bibs and Comforts Make
Their Appearance

The R.V.C. gymnasium yesterday afternoon presented a strange scene in which the participants were a crowd of little girls apparently of a very early age, and a number of ghostly figures in black. These were the members of R.V.C. '26 being initiated at the hands of the Sophomores. It is rumoured that as a result of the very suitable choice of costume the Saint Catherine Street stores are now sold out of bibs and comforts.

After the freshies had gone through various rites and sworn to various oaths, all of which must remain shrouded in mystery, some of the freshes of their number were made to perform individual stunts, suited to their particular talents.

Then they all were taken to the Common Room, where instead of being made to undergo new terrors they were served with refreshments by the Sophomores, and all enmities were forgotten in the general feeling of good fellowship which prevailed. Miss Hurlbatt then gave a short address, after which everyone joined heartily in the McGill yell, Hail Alma Mater, and God Save the King.

PULP AND PAPER CLUB TO TAKE TRIP

Will Visit Mills at Three Rivers and Vicinity

The Pulp and Paper Club met last evening for the first time this season.
The purpose of the meeting was chiefly to get the members together and discuss plans for the coming season. There was a very enthusiastic turn-out, if not an exceedingly large one.

With the co-operation of Mr. Beck, of the Pulp and Paper Association, the Club intends to take advantage of the holiday on Thanksgiving Day to make a trip to Three Rivers, Grand'Mere and Shawinigan Falls to visit such plants as the International Pulp and Paper Co., Wayagamack, Laurentide and Belgo-Canadian. The men will have a chance to see in operation the most modern machinery and equipment used in the industry, and to compare the different methods employed by the various mills.

The party will leave on the Friday night or Saturday morning before Thanksgiving Day, and return Monday evening. The trip is not restricted to members of the Club; anyone interested is invited to take advantage of this splendid opportunity to visit some of the foremost pulp and paper mills on this continent, if not in the world. Expenses will be kept down to the minimum and such a trip might well be considered a good investment by anyone intending to follow the industry.

The next meeting of the Club will be held about the second week in November.
Mr. A. M. Matheson will read a paper on "The Pulp and Paper Department of The Forest Products Laboratory".
A paper will be read also by Mr. A.
Hamel, on "The Manufacture of Ground Wood."

A programme of a very ambitious and varied nature is planned for this season, which is really its first as the club was inaugurated only this spring. All students interested are invited to join the Club. Not only will they derive a great benefit from the meetings, but they will find it of considerable assistance
to them in the securing of positions later on.

COMMERCE PRACTISE.

There was a good turnout for Commerce Rugby yesterday afternoon, only a few regulars were missing, absent probably on account of minor injuries suffered at last Tuesday's game, but they should be all right again for today's game with Science. There were a few needed changes made in the half-line,
Davis and Kenrick, right and left halves, showed up well in their positions. After last Tuesday's game it is evident that the Commerce team needs quite a bit of practice in tackling correctly, and in passing, especially on end runs.
